THIRTY-THIRD YEAR NO. 14.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1910

PRICE $1.00 A YEAR.

WHAT BECAME OF PAPERS?

The question now is what has become of part of the records in the Mayor's office concerning the two liquor cases against C. M. Ridgway? Mr. Ridgway's mayor, J. H. Andrew, is responsible for the care and keep of the village docket concerning such cases but the claim is put forth now that certain important papers are missing. The papers were turned over to Mayor Andrew by J. H. Wolford on January first.

Mr. Ridgway now attempts to check the collection of fines amounting to $400 on the grounds that the records are not complete. Mr. Andrew has been mayor three months which is ample time for Mr. Ridgway to know the exact condition of the books.

The following is Mr. Ridgway's suit. Averring that the records of the mayor of Cedarville do not show that a judgment for $400 and costs rendered against him Aug. 1, 1908, C. M. Ridgway, well known druggist Monday brought proceedings in Common Pleas Court to enjoin Sheriff Applegate from levying on his property to satisfy the judgment. The petition recites that the sheriff is attempting to enforce a "pretended" false and fictitious judgment, said to have been rendered against the plaintiff by the Cedarville mayor and by so doing to disturb and destroy his lawful business.

A temporary injunction was allowed by Judge Kyle. The judgment rendered in the petition was rendered against Mr. Ridgway by ex-Mayor Wolford, of Cedarville for alleged violation of the liquor law, on two counts. In each count the fine assessed was $200 and costs. The case was carried to the Supreme Court which recently affirmed the judgment.

H. C. Armstrong is attorney for the plaintiff. —Get your buggy painted at Townsley and Murdock's.

Niles Lost Right Hand.

Bert Niles, an employee at the Tarbox Lumber Company plant, had the misfortune Tuesday morning to drop his hand under a small circular saw. The result was that the right member was nearly severed at the wrist.

The unfortunate man was taken to Dr. M. I. Marsh's office where the wound was dressed. As there was but two leaders to support the hand and the arteries were severed it was found that an amputation was necessary. Drs. Marsh and Stewart performed the amputation. Latest reports are that the patient is doing as well as could be expected.

J. C. Conwell's Fourteenth An- nual Opening.

On April 7th, 8th and 9th, J. C. Conwell will hold his 14th annual opening of buggies, phaetons, carriages, runabouts and farm implements. You are all invited to attend Good music. Souvenirs. Special terms and prices.

Don't forget the dates, April 7th, 8th and 9th. Always something new.

Yours truly,
J. C. CONWELL.

FREE!

Commencing April 1st, 1910, for 30 days The Ohio Fuel Supply Co., will run to and set the meters free of cost to new consumers on their low pressure lines now laid.

To all who have their houses piped for fuel purposes the company reserves the right to locate the setting of the meters, and will under no circumstance run a service before the house is piped.

POLITICIANS AND THINGS POLITICAL.

J. W. Faulkner, who writes the political news for the Cincinnati Enquirer and whom the Xenia Gazette credits with being the best informed man on political topics in the state, states that Warren G. Harding looks like the only real winner for the Republican nomination for Governor. Harding is still getting endorsements and his chances are regarded as "A" at present.

In the same letter Faulkner refers to the situation in the Sixth District in which Jesse Taylor only lives to redeem. Faulkner states that Taylor has been "vindicated" and as proof "has paid matter". This great writer has idea that what Jesse needs most at present is a "lunacy commission" to examine his sanity, politically. The article has caused considerable comment over the district and especially in this county.

The Sentinel Tribune, the leading Republican paper in Wood county has the following to say concerning Representative Reed of that county for his vote favoring the Elson telephone merger bill: "A vote for the Elson bill should and will be the death blow to the political life of any man. Reed knew what every one knows in the state, that this telephone merger was the most shameful and villainous piece of legislation fathered by a trust in years." Every statement applies to Representative Lewis of Greene county who cast his vote for the trust and at the same time made possible the robbery of patrons in increased box rentals and message fees.

J. E. Lewis, the "misrepresentative" from this county to the legislature, has a card in the last issue of the Jamestown Journal in which he expresses himself as being opposed to the Smith bill in the House. The Cincinnati Times-Star gives the vote on this bill as 98 to 0. If Lewis was against the measure when it record 12? If he was present at the time and failed to vote "No" he has deceived no one but himself. A prominent politician in Xenia stated Monday that the "copper" represented Lewis' vote, also his standing with the members of the House. It's a ten to one bet that if Lewis was present when the Smith bill was called he did not know when it came time to vote. Jesse Taylor cannot be present each day to keep Lewis in line owing to his congressional fight. The public is looking for the man who kept his eye on Lewis while he voted for the telephone trust merger bill, which if passed by the Senate, will take dollars out of the pocket of every telephone patron.

THE PANHANDLE.

People are pouring into this part of Texas from all over the country and more land is being sold here by far than any other place in the state, for many good and substantial reasons. It has the soil and rainfall, rail roads and cities and a delightful climate. If some of the Greene county people who have been led in, haltered and sold land at fancy prices in isolated parts of the state, where the mercury frequently stands at 110 in the shade, knew what they were up against and what they could have gotten choice land for through us, in the beautiful Panhandle, close to cities and railroads, they would be sick goings. It is strange what land companies can do with men who usually have good judgment.

J. J. Downing, Xenia, O.

ME AND HARRY. BY LIDA D. ANCHER.

In the spring-time when the flowers
Wake from their long winter sleep, Lift their heads and burst their prison

And stepping out to get a peep,
Get a breath of air and sunshine,
Drinking in the April showers,
Draping them in robes of emerald Crowned with all the dainty flowers.

When the dew-drops on the grass-blades
Sparkle like some precious stones,
All the bare, brown trees and bushes
Don the green in many tones.

Then is when my every heart-throb,
All my throbs are throbs of Harry
Then I love to roam the wood-land
With my bonnie brown-eyed Harry.

Just to saunter long old Massie's Banks and thinking, nothing saying,
Two hearts singing, joy bells ringing,
Sunshine with the ripples playing.

To watch the fish so idly lying Under rocks in the silent pools
Wondering what they do in winter
And why they always go in schools.

Thinking if 'twere me and Harry
We would rather go, just two,
Rather find the early crocus
And the forget-me-nots so true.

Rather find the dainty daisies
Blooming there in sweet surprise
Just as heart to heart is speaking
Of true love 'neath sunny skies.

Naught think we of books or studies
For our hearts are keeping tune
To the music of the waters
In April, just as the 'twere June.

For I know that Harry loves me
And his heart is true and true
Just as flowers love the sunshine
Do I love them and Harry too.

THEATRE NOTES.

Surrounded by an exceptionally strong cast and appearing in a timely comedy that proved the hit of her career Lillian Russell will be the special star of the season at the theatre.

Afternoon and evening, April 9th in the modern farce, "The First Night." In "The First Night" Mr. Hobart has first of all written a laughing success and in the second place provided the most popular comedienne on the stage with a suitable vehicle. To do either of these things is task enough, and to exceed in the accomplishment of both is an achievement. In providing his popular star with a production that fits the bill, Joseph Brooks has excelled himself in the handling of the stage pictures for "The First Night." Miss Russell will brighten up these scenes with gems of the sort she is expected to wear. A feature of distinction will be the strength of her supporting company, for in the list will be found such excellent players as Dora by Hill, Suzanne Westford, Millicent Evans, Julius McVicker, Sydney Booth, Albert Andrus, Geo. E. Mack, T. Hays Hunter, Leonora Oakford and Saldee Williams.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Fourth Bi-Monthly Meeting of Greene County Teachers' Association for 1909-10 will be held in the McKinley Auditorium, Xenia, O., Saturday, April 2nd.

Morning Session—9:30 Standard, Devotional, Rev. W. H. Mason, Xenia; Male Quartette, Cedarville, O.; High School; "An Hour with Oliver Wendell Holmes," Prof. C. L. Williams, Denison University; Recesse.

Vocal Duet, Misses Anderson and Lowmes, Cedarville College; "The Classics in Modern Education" by Prof. Chas. C. Delano, Antioch College.

Afternoon Session—1:15 Standard Antioch Quartette, Yellow Springs, Ohio; Piano Solo, Miss Knott, Cedarville College; "Some Interesting Facts about Oxford University, England," Prof. Williams. Recesse. Vocal Quartette; Vocal Solo, Miss Andrew, Cedarville, Ohio; "Some Thoughts on Education," Prof. Delano.

Music under the direction of Prof. Foster, Instructor of Music, Cedarville.

Date of Association changed to April 2nd on account of Superintendents' Round Table of Western Ohio, April 3, Dayton, Ohio.

The Executive Committee finds that a number of Greene County Teachers are not yet members of our association. It is hoped that they will embrace the opportunity at this meeting to enroll for the present year.

Executive Committee—W. C. Lacey, Pres.; Martha Crawford, Sec'y.; O. B. Shepard, Chester Devoe, Mary Wilgus.

NEW ORGANIZATION IS FORMED.

A number of citizens in the corporation and township met Monday evening in the R. P. Church for the organization of what is to be known as the "Law Enforcement and Order League of Cedarville."

The object of the organization is to secure better enforcement of some of the laws, particularly those relating to Sabbath disturbance and the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The committee on nominations, M. I. Marsh, Rev. M. J. Taylor and L. H. Sullenberger, reported as follows:

President, Dr. W. R. McChesney Secretary, Joseph Kinney. Treasurer to be selected by the finance committee.

Law enforcement committee: W. J. Tarbox, J. W. Pollock, Walter Hill, Wm. Ritter, Calvin Ewry, W. E. Fulk, Rev. M. J. Taylor.

Agitation committee: D. B. McElvan, R. Bird, and Prof. Master-son. Finance committee: O. L. Smith, C. H. Crouse and J. E. Hastings.

The report of the above committee was accepted and adopted.

The funds in the hands of the old township committee were offered the new committee and accepted.

Air Gun Brings Trouble.

Willard Kyle, the nine year old son of Mr. J. E. Kyle, in company with his playmate, Cecil Strobbridge, were making use of an air gun by shooting at the former's cap, last Friday Just as Willard attempted to recover his cap the gun was fired and a heavy shot penetrated the palm of his hand. The lad was taken to Xenia Saturday where the bullet was removed after it had been located by the X-Ray.

BREEDERS ATTENTION.

The draft horse market was never as strong as it is now. The Percheron never enjoyed such popularity with the city buyer, and no one disputes his being the best farm horse produced. Bred to a Percheron deep in the blood, able to produce the true Percheron type. Monitor, the Imported Percheron has proven a sure breeder his first year for the sea and is now ready for service. Jeff Hood, an experienced and careful caretaker is in charge.

Amos E. Faulkner, Paintersville, is candidate for Auditor.

Who is Amos Faulkner? A very natural and pertinent question just at this juncture.

Does he belong to an old family? So many do on old families, not stopping to think that one family is about as old as another, and all of them can safely claim lineage back to Adam.

However, there does grow up a queer notion that the old families are least given to black sheep raising.

Well don't you believe it for a minute.

Old families have their full quota of black sheep and when we dispense with the low-low habit and steep persons at what they are and not what they pretend to be we shall have arrived under any sky.

Again who is Amos Faulkner? In the first place he comes from an "old family" as so many are pleased to call it.

Then, again, he comes from Paintersville, an old town.

But this can be said of Faulkner that he is no black sheep.

One glance at his countenance will tell you that.

He has never played at cross-cross with his conscience.

He goes with his head up, not with brazen boldness but with an American independence that is good to see, and he looks you square in the eye when he talks to you.

Secondly, Amos Faulkner is well educated and taught school for ten years and over at Paintersville. The whole community has confidence in him.

And that's saying a lot. If one's own people banks on you, you can feel pretty secure.

We've known Amos a long time and know what we are talking about.

He has never been accused of eminence in duplicity and trickery. He just goes along and attends to his duty, without any fuss or feathers.

That's how it came about that when they wanted a post-master, they put in Amos; when they wanted a reliable township and school Board clerk, they gave the jobs to Amos; when the Republicans wanted a good central committeeman they picked out Amos, and he has never failed his constituency in any capacity.

Cassarecreek township has never been represented in a county office, and, given the right kind of a man, it would be only square deal treatment to give Amos Faulkner solid backing for the office of Auditor of Greene County.

There's nothing like having all the qualities—competency, sociability, honesty, consistency and Amos Faulkner has them.

ORGANIZATION WINS.

The liquor men are opposed to Christian citizens having anything to do with politics. They complain if ministers address their audiences in favor of good government. They howl against a "union of church and state," as they term it.

Of course the liquor gang does not want the church and its members to take any part in governmental affairs, local, state or national. The liquor men would disfranchise every minister and every church member if could. The gang wants to run campaigns and elections in the "good old way" it did before it had federated churches pitted against it.

Good citizens can never expect good government from the saloon and liquor gang. They must fight the liquor element to a finish. The way to do it is to organize and then stand together, work together, pull together; the army of good citizens is invincible.

Let the liquor forces howl. They are howling because they are hurt.
They are meeting defeat in all parts of the country because the good citizens know the splendid results that can be achieved through organization. The work will go on, for "like a mighty army moves the Church of God."—American Issue.

'Every Month'

writes Lola P. Roberts, of Vienna, Mo., "I used to be sick most of the time and suffered with backache and headache. My Mother, who had been greatly helped by the use of Cardui, got me two bottles, and I have been well ever since."

E 49 Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Cardui is a gentle tonic
for young and old women.
It relieves and prevents pain. It builds strength. It feeds the nerves. It helps the whole system.

Made from harmless
roots and herbs, it has no bad after-effects, does not interfere with the use of any other medicine and can do you nothing but help.
Try Cardui. It will help
you. Your dealer sells it.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF GREENE COUNTY:

Gentlemen:—In announcing myself as a candidate for the office of Prosecuting Attorney of Greene County, will say that I have been brought out by no political ring and am controlled by no political boss, and if elected to the office will feel free and will enforce the law to the best of my ability, against all offenders of the law, not against one class or set of people more than another, but against all classes alike, be they rich or poor, black or white.

Upon these grounds therefore, I submit myself to your careful consideration and beg to remain,

Respectfully yours,

FRANK L. JOHNSON.

Charles Mayo, colored, employed as a farm hand on the J. G. Clemens farm suffered a broken limb and other injuries last Tuesday owing to a horse running away with a load of fodder on a sled. Mayo attempted to check the animal but was knocked down and stepped upon. Several stitches were required to sew up a cut lip, his head was bruised and back injured as well as the right limb being broken. Dr. E. C. Oglesbee was called and set the broken member.

It has been announced that the Antioch Chautauque has completed arrangements with The Coburn Players of New York to give their out of doors production of "As You Like It" on the Campus, I. P. M. June 1st. As to the case with all of the Coburn Players' presentations, the only scenery used will be that furnished by the natural surroundings of trees and shrubbery. Western doors, no matter how elaborately covered with green mats, fail for behind nature's turf in lending the much to be desired spirit of sincerity to a performance, just as a breeze through real branches is more soothing than a draft in a play-house.

The company will play at many colleges during its summer season, including Columbia, Harvard, Princeton, University of Tennessee, Illinois, Indiana and Virginia, and many others as prominent.

Mr. W. B. Stevenson announces himself this week as a candidate for Inferior Director at the Republican primary on May 17. Mr. Stevenson served one term on this board a few years ago and is thoroughly acquainted with the duties of the office. He has been a life long resident of Cedarville township and one of the leading Republicans. His petition will be started in a few days.

—Holders of season tickets for the M. B. Brotherhood lecture course are entitled to tickets for the Byron King lecture, April 8, by paying fifteen cents. Those not holding tickets will be admitted for 25c.

Advancement in Clothes Making

Never before in the history of ready-for-service clothes-making has there been such clothing built as the Spring and Summer garments now on display at this great store. The hustle, energy, insistence for better clothing of this powerful organization has spurred master clothes-builders to their best efforts and we offer and recommend these products to you as the highest type garments possible to produce. Past seasons have not seen their equal. We do not know what the future will bring forth, but we do know that we are showing the best clothing of today. With the real opening of the Spring Season tomorrow, would it not be wise to make selections while assortments are full?
